

SETTING EXERCISES

Flex your descriptive muscles with the following exercises. First, choose a location from the Writers Helping Writers' Setting Thesaurus and list two sensory details for each of the five senses.

SIGHT

1) _____ 2) _____

SMELL

1) _____ 2) _____

SOUND

1) _____ 2) _____

TEXTURE

TASTE

Now, write a paragraph describing this setting through the eyes of a character who has never visited this location before. Weave in the quality of light, the time of day or the season (if it applies), and use at least 3 of the 5 senses above. Try to show us who the character is and what he or she feels.

Rewrite this passage, this time using foreshadowing to imply that something bad is about to happen. Concentrate on building a subtle mood of unease or hone in on a detail that does not fit in the setting, drawing attention to it. Try out some new sensory description choices if you like.

Time to ramp up the tension. Rewrite this again to show your character interacting with the setting as he or she either flees, fights, or hides. Description should flow with the action of the scene, showing emotion and mood. Remember to try some shorter sentences to reflect urgency.
